We are pleased to acknowledge the Visible Knowledge Project and its director, Professor Randy Bass of Georgetown University, for providing the funding that permitted the initiation of In Transit. We are most grateful to President Gail O. Mellow of LaGuardia Community College for her leadership in recognizing the value of the scholarship of teaching and learning and for providing crucial funds needed to sustain In Transit.
Editorial Acknowledgements

Over the past two years, In Transit has gratefully benefited from the collegial support of our peer readers. Their commentary and recommendations are a vital part of the work presented in these pages. On behalf of the In Transit community, the editors wish to thank the following individuals for their generous contributions of time, expertise, and insight.
